Red Hill Energy Inc.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements(Unaudited, See Advisory to Reader)

For the period ended September 30, $2007 \quad 2006$

1. Nature of Operations

The Company is a development stage public company. The principal business activity of the Company is the acquisition, exploration and development of mineral properties.
Since June 1, 2003, the Company's principal activity has been the acquisition, exploration and development of mineral properties located in Mongolia held directly and through its subsidiary companies. All of the projects in Mongolia are in the initial stages of contract formalization and obtaining necessary government approvals. The ability of the Company to continue operations is dependent upon the continued financial support of its shareholders, other investors and lendors and with the successful development of the Company's interests in the mineral properties.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Interim financial statements

The interim financial statements follow the same accounting policies and methods of their application as the most recent audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2006. However, they do not include all the information and disclosures required by the annual financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments of a normal recurring nature necessary for a fair presentation have been included. The results for the interim periods are not necessarily indicative of the results for the entire year. The information contained in the interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the Company's latest annual financial statements and notes thereto.
(b) Basis of presentation

These consolidated financial statements are prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles and include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned British Virgin Islands subsidiary, Canrim Minerals Limited, its wholly owned Mongolian subsidiaries, UGL Enterprises LLC, and Redhill Mongolia LLC.. All inter-company balances and transactions have been eliminated.
(c) Investment in and expenditures on resource properties

The Company follows the practice of capitalizing all costs relating to the acquisition of, exploration for and the development of mineral claims, net of all incidental revenues received. At such time as commercial production commences, these costs will be charged to operations on a unit-of-production method based on estimated recoverable reserves. The aggregate costs related to abandoned mineral claims will be charged to operations at the time of abandonment. General and administrative expenditures that are not directly related to specific mineral properties are expensed in the period in which they are incurred.
(d) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and short-term deposits with original maturity of less than three months.

Red Hill Energy Inc.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements(Unaudited, See Advisory to Reader)

For the period ended September 30, $2007 \quad 2006$

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

(e) Foreign currency translation

Amounts recorded in foreign currency are translated into Canadian dollars as follows:
(i) Monetary assets and liabilities at the rate of exchange in effect as at the balance sheet date;
(ii) Non-monetary assets and liabilities at the exchange rates prevailing at the time of the acquisition of the assets or assumption of the liabilities; and
(iii) Revenues and expenses at the average rate of exchange for the year.

Gains and losses arising from this translation of foreign currency are included in the determination of net loss for the year.
(f) Loss per share

Loss per share is calculated using the weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year. Diluted loss per share has not been presented separately as the outstanding stock options are anti-dilutive.
(g) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts for revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates and would impact future results of operations and cash flows.
(h) Income taxes

Income taxes are calculated using the liability method of tax accounting. Temporary differences arising from the difference between the tax basis of an asset or liability and its carrying amount on the balance sheet are used to calculate future income tax assets or liabilities. Future income tax assets or liabilities are calculated using tax rates anticipated to apply in the period that the temporary differences are expected to reverse. A valuation allowance is provided to reduce the asset to the net amount management estimates to be reasonable to carry as a future income tax asset.
(i) Asset retirement obligations

Effective January 1, 2004, the Company adopted the new Canadian accounting requirements for asset retirement obligations. The new standard requires liability recognition for retirement obligations associated with long-lived assets at fair value. The asset retirement cost equal to the fair value of the retirement obligation is capitalized as part of the cost of the related asset. These capitalized costs are depreciated using a straight-line method on the estimated life of the asset. Amounts are recorded once they become known or can be readily estimated.

For the period ended September 30, $2007 \quad 2006$

(j) Stock-based compensation plans

The Company accounts for stock options granted to directors, employees and consultants using the fair value method. The fair value of each option granted is estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option pricing model and charged to earnings over the vesting period with a corresponding increase in contributed surplus. Upon exercise of the stock options, consideration received together with the amount previously recognized in contributed surplus is recorded as an increase to capital stock.
(k) Amortization of property and equipment is recorded on a declining-balance basis at the following annual rates:

| Furniture and equipment | $20 \%$ |
| :--- | ---: |
| Vehicle | $30 \%$ |
| Computer equipment | $45 \%$ |
| g the year are amortized at one-half the annual rates. |  |

Additions during the year are amortized at one-half the annual rates.
(l) Revenue recognition

The Company recognizes interest income on its cash and cash equivalents on an accrual basis at the stated rates over the term to maturity.

3. Financial Instruments

(a) Fair value

The carrying values of cash and cash equivalents, accounts receivable, and accounts payable and accrued liabilities approximate their fair values because of the short-term maturity of these financial instruments. The fair value of the long-term investment is disclosed in note 5.
(b) Credit risk

A financial instrument that potentially subjects the Company to concentration of credit risk is its cash. The Company has placed the majority of its cash with a major Canadian commercial bank. The Company is also exposed to credit risk with respect to its accounts receivable, which consists of an amount receivable from a Mongolian company.
(c) Currency risk

The Company translates the results of US transactions into Canadian currency using rates approximating the average exchange rate for the year. The exchange rate may vary from time to time. The Company translates Mongolian transactions into Canadian currency at rates approximating the average exchange rate for the year. Management believes that the currency risk is minimal for Mongolian dollars as the risk is mitigated by the fact that the majority of the Mongolian transactions are completed in US currency.
